

Discount Days of Fall

A checklist of quick and easy things you can do to make sure you save this season.

1

Save with a postage meter

Use a postage meter and receive a 3 cent discount on single-piece, First-Class Mail letters up to 3.5 oz.

2

Take advantage of USPS® ounce-based pricing

Are you taking advantage of USPS ounce-based pricing? You can pay less to ship packages under 1 lb. with the USPS.

3

Give shape-based pricing a shot

If packages conform to USPS® shape-based standards, you avoid non-machinable surcharges. So use letter-sized envelopes instead of flats and cut costs even further by using two-sided printing.

4

How long since you've used USPS® Saturday delivery?

Saturday delivery has no extra charge with the USPS and Sunday and Holiday delivery are often available for a small fee.

5

Consider using Commercial Based Pricing

You can qualify for discounts on flats, packages and Priority Mail® with mail machines approved by the USPS® that collect and upload package-level data to postal servers.

6

Get reacquainted with Priority Mail®

With Priority Mail® and Priority Mail Express® flat rate boxes you pay one flat rate for up to 70 lbs.—if it fits it ships. You can get overnight or 1, 2, and 3 day delivery for your heavy packages for a low cost.

7

Chat with one of our small business specialists

Our team is happy to tell you about our newest products and solutions to help ensure everything runs as smoothly as possible this fall. Give us a call at 877.888.0677.

8

Give Marketing Mail a try

Are you shipping out over 200 mail pieces or 50 lbs of mail at a time? If so you could qualify for discounted pricing with USPS Marketing Mail.
